Docket No. RM2017-10

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE NOTICE OF FILING
THIRD PARTY COMMENTS
(August 14, 2017)

The United States Postal Service ("Postal Service") hereby provides notice of the filing of comments from Canada Post Corporation ("CPC") addressing the issues under consideration in this docket. In its answer in partial opposition to the UPS motion for access to nonpublic material, the Postal Service informed the Commission that an interested third party sought to share its views regarding UPS's request prior to any Commission decision.¹ The Postal Service became aware of the comments from CPC, and is submitting them for inclusion in this docket.

Respectfully submitted,

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE

Re. PRC Docket No. RM2017-10 8/10/2017 No. 101145 (Answer of USPS in Partial Opposition to UPS Motion for Access to Non-public Material ('Answer'))

Dear Mr. Alverno,

Canada Post Corporation (CPC) appreciates the efforts of USPS to oppose those elements of the above UPS Motion pertaining to third-party information. Given the magnitude of the north-bound parcel flows from USPS to CPC; and the highly competitive nature of the United States/Canada cross-border parcels business; and the seriousness and significance of the impact on CPC's revenues and legitimate commercial interests of improper disclosure of its commercially-sensitive information; CPC most emphatically supports USPS's Answer requesting the PRC to order that UPS should be denied access to the non-public material set forth in ACR2016 (USPS-FY16-NP14).

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Donald Campbell
Senior Counsel, Canada Post
